Why H. S. Stout Succeeds.

Here are a few reasons why H. S. Stout has succeeded in building up the largest tailoring business in Paris:

FIRST—He recognized the fact that five years ago that the only day of big profits and small sales was past.

SECOND—He cuts the price of tailor-made garments at least 40 PER CENT.

THIRD—He kept up the quality of his materials, his styles and his workmanship.

FOURTH—He always does as he advertised.

AS A RESULT.

As a result of this system he has built up a large trade that appreciates the fact that they save twenty dollars on a single Suit or Overcoat. "Many customers at a small profit rather than a few customers at a big profit," says H. S. Stout.

If you want credit, your high-price tailor gladly extends it, for he makes you pay dearly for it in the end.

Why not turn over a new leaf—wear the best, save money, by giving H. S. Stout a trial?

He makes the Finest Imported Suits for $30.00 AND $35.00.

Troops Must Be Sent Home Or an Appalling Disaster is Liable.

To Keep the Army at Santiago Will Involve the Destruction of Thousands by Yellow Fever and Other Diseases—To Be Returned.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Aug. 3.—(Delayed in Transmission).—Summoned by Maj. Gen. Shafter, a meeting was held this morning at headquarters, and in the presence of every commanding and medical officer of the 5th army corps Gen. Shafter read a cable message from Secretary Alger, ordering him at the recommendation of Surgeon General Sternberg, to move the army into the interior, to San Luis, where it is healthier. As a result of the conference Gen. Shafter will insist upon the immediate withdrawal of the army north within two weeks. As an explanation of the situation the following letter from Col. Theodore Roosevelt, commanding the 1st volunteer cavalry, to Gen. Shafter, was handed by the latter to the correspondent here of the Associated Press for publication:

Sir:—In a meeting of the general and medical officers, called by you at the palace this morning, we are all as you know, unanimous in view of what should be done with the army. To keep us here is the opinion of every officer commanding a division or a brigade, will simply involve the destruction of thousands. There is no possible reason for not shipping practically the entire command north at once. Yellow fever cases are very few in the cavalry division where I command one of the two brigades, and not one true case of yellow fever has occurred in this division except among the men sent to the hospital at Siboney, where they have I believe, contracted it. But in this division there have been 1,500 cases of malarial fever. Not a man has died from it, but the whole command is so weakened and shattered as to be ripe for dying like rotten sheep when a real yellow fever epidemic, instead of a fake epidemic like the present, strikes us, as it is bound to, if we stay here, at the height of the sickness season. August and the beginning of September. Quarantine against malarial fever is much like quarantining against the toothache. All of us are certain, as soon as the authorities at Washington fully appreciate the conditions of the army, to be sent home. If we are kept here it will in all human possibility mean an appalling disaster, for the surgeons here estimate that over half the army, if kept here during the sickly season, will die. This is not only terrible from the standpoint of the individual lives lost, but it means ruin from the standpoint of the military efficiency of the flower of the American army, for the great bulk of the regulars are here with you. The sick list, large though it is, exceeding 4,000, affords but a faint index of the debilitation of the army. Not 10 per cent. are fit for active work. Six weeks on the North Maine coast, for instance, or elsewhere, where the yellow fever germ can not possibly propagate, would make us all as fit as fighting cocks, able as we are eager, to take a leading part in the great campaign against Havana in the fall, even if we are not allowed to try Porto Rico. We can be moved north, if moved at once, with absolute safety to the country, although, of course, it would have been infinitely better if we had been moved north or to Porto Rico two weeks ago. If there were any object in keeping us here we would face yellow fever with as much indifference as we face bullets, but there is no object in it. The four immune regiments ordered here are sufficient to garrison the city and surrounding towns, and there is absolutely nothing for us to do here and there has not been since the town surrendered. It is impossible to move into the interior. Every shifting of camp doubles the sick rate in our present weakened condition, and, anyhow, the interior is rather worse than the coast, as I have found by actual reconnaissance. Our present camps are as healthy as any camps at this end of the island can be. I write only because I can not see our men who have fought so bravely and who have endured extreme hardships and dangers so uncomplainingly, go to destruction without striving so far as lies in me to avert a doom as fearful as it is unnecessary and undeserved. Yours respectfully,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT,
Colonel Commanding 1st Brigade.

After Col. Roosevelt had taken the initiative, all the American general officers united in a round-robin addressed to Gen. Shafter. It reads:

"We, the undersigned officers commanding the various brigades, divisions, etc., of the army of occupation in Cuba, are of the unanimous opinion that this army should be at once taken out of Cuba and sent to some point on the northern seacoast of the United States; that it can be done without danger to the people of the United States; that yellow fever in the army at present is not epidemic; that there are only a few sporadic cases; but that the army is disabled by malarial fever to the extent that its efficiency is destroyed and that it is in a condition to be practically destroyed by an epidemic of yellow fever which is sure to come in the near future. We know from the reports of competent officers and from personal observations that the army is unable to move into the interior and that there are no facilities for such a move if attempted, and that it could not be attempted until too late. Moreover, the best medical authorities on the island say that with our present equipment we could not live in the interior during the rainy season without losses from malarial fever, which is almost as deadly as yellow fever. This army must be moved at once or perish. As the army can be safely moved now, the persons responsible for preventing such a move will be responsible for the unnecessary loss of many thousands of lives. Our opinions are the result of careful personal observation and they are also based on the unanimous opinion of our medical officers with the army, who understand the situation absolutely.

Maj. W. M. Wood, the chief surgeon of the 1st division, said: "The army must be moved north," adding with emphasis, "or it will be unable to move itself."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—After a conference with Secretaries Day and Long Thursday the president had a conference with Secretary Alger, Secretary Long and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Allen, at which action was taken for the prompt transportation of Gen. Shafter's army from Cuba to Montauk Point, L. I., the conference occupied a couple of hours and there was an informal general presentation of the needs of prompt action and of the means at hand to effect it. It was finally concluded that there were sufficient vessels off the coast there now for the purpose. When the meeting ended it was officially stated that the number of vessels now there was adequate for the removal of the army. The dispatch of the troops home accordingly will begin at once.

ROOSEVELT IS CALLED DOWN

Interesting Correspondence Between the Colonel of the Rough Riders and the Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The following correspondence has passed between Col. Roosevelt and Secretary Alger:

SANTIAGO, July 23, 1898.
My Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am writing with the knowledge and approval of Gen. Wheeler. We earnestly hope that you will send us—most of the regulars, and at any rate the cavalry division, including the Rough Riders, who are as good as any regulars, and three times as good as any state troops, to Porto Rico. There are 1,800 effective men in this division; if those who were left behind were joined to them, we could land at Porto Rico, in this cavalry division, close to 4,000 men, who would be worth easily any 10,000 national guards armed with black powder Springfield or other archaic weapons.

COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Very respectfully,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

The following reply was cabled to Col. Roosevelt Thursday:

Your letter of the 23d is received. The regular army, the volunteer army and the rough riders have done well, but I suggest that unless you want to spoil the effects and glory of your victory, you make no invidious comparisons. The rough riders are no better than other volunteers. They had an advantage in their arms, for which they ought to be very grateful.

R. A. ALGER,
Secretary of War.

Cleaning Santiago's Streets.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 5.—Gen. Wood, military governor, has appointed Maj. George M. Barbour as health and state commissioner. The city will be divided into 16 districts, under the supervision of non-commissioned officers responsible for the street cleaning in their respective localities. Four thousand men will be immediately put to work cleaning the thoroughfares.

Reducing Expenses in Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Secretary Long is now devoting a good part of his attention to reducing the expenses of the navy department which were so vastly increased by the war. In this he is carrying out the wishes of the president, and it is expected that a similar policy will be adopted by all of the other executive departments affected.

Fire at Steubenville, O.

STUEBENVILLE, O., Aug. 5.—The three-story brick building, formerly DeDevi's woolen mills, owned by Mrs. Turnbull, was set on fire and completely destroyed. Loss $1,000. Jack Liggett's loss on hay, straw and harness is $1,500. No insurance. The firemen worked until Thursday morning.

Urgent Call for Nurses.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 5.—The local war emergency board of Cleveland has been ordered to send nurses to Ft. Myers, near Washington, at once. The orders were for the nurses not to wait for transportation, as is the custom, but to pay their own fare.

Horse Causes a Wreck.

ALEXANDRIA, Ind., Aug. 4.—A west-bound Lake Erie and Western freight was wrecked early Thursday morning near this city by running into a horse. Two unknown men stealing a ride were seriously injured.

The United States Hospital Ship Relief sailed from New York Wednesday bound, it is said, either for Porto Rico or Cuba.

REMOVING DIRT.

Santiago Streets and Alleys Being Put in Better Sanitary Condition.

The City Filling Up With Enterprising Americans Ready for Business—A Daily Paper Prints McKinley's Proclamation to Cubans.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, July 27.—The dirty condition of this city, the heaps of foul refuse that encumber the streets, the malodorous alleys any byways, the lack of sanitary arrangements and drainage of any description are all matters that will require remedying if this is to become an American city. It should be remembered that the weeks of blockade, the fear of bombardment, the scarcity of food and the general demoralization existing in a besieged town have done much to add to the conditions of filth and poor sanitation that normally prevail. For generations the people have lived regardless of the first rules of hygiene, the lower classes are ignorant of all precautionary measures, and it is not surprising when our American officers issue an order through the civil governor of Santiago stating that all houses must be at once thoroughly cleaned, inside and out, the order is disregarded.

Orders are constantly issued to the people to report at once the death of any one in their household, and threats of fine and enforced labor as a punishment carry little weight. Extreme measures will have to be taken to bring about a proper condition of affairs in this respect, and it will take many months of example and stringent enforcement of regulations to bring the people to an observance of what is clearly best for their health.

Since July 16 until July 23 the city was without a daily paper. On July 23 the Espectador made its first appearance and printed the full Spanish text of President McKinley's proclamation to the people of Cuba. The Espectador is running a series of articles on New York city, this subject being supposedly of prime interest to its readers at this time. A three-column article on the inscriptions of the Egyptian obelisk in Central park appears in the last issue, and the publisher promises the declaration of the independence of the United States in the near future.

The Espectador enjoys the distinction of being the only Spanish paper published in this island free of Spanish censorship.

A newspaper printed in Spanish and English is promised soon, and Company F, of the 33d Michigan volunteer infantry, has brought out a paper called Company F Enterprise, which is the first American paper published in the city of Santiago de Cuba.

Already the enterprising American is present. There is around town a ragged man with a smattering of Spanish who has turned several dollars by buying up swords and machetes from Spaniards and the city pawnshops to sell them again to American relic hunters. There is the man with the capital to invest who awaits but a sure and remunerative opportunity, and there is the man who buys up bargains in American horse flesh from sick or wounded officers going home, hoping to sell the animals at a profit. The first steamer from the United States has brought many men to look over this new field for business opportunities, and there will be American sharpness and enterprise pitted against the Cuban and Spaniard.

The arrival of so many strangers in Santiago during the last two weeks has taxed the town's accommodations, which were never ample, to the utmost. The lack of anything like proper hotels and restaurants will continue to be a detriment to the city until some one with a knowledge of what Americans want steps in and opens a hotel.

There is much talk of the exorbitant prices charged by storekeepers for clothing, food and drink. Prices are three and four times as high as they should be. Shopkeepers are charging at the rate of two American dollars for what sold formerly for one silver Spanish dollar. It has been found necessary to ordain that bread shall not be sold for more than 20 cents silver a pound and the announcement that there will be established soon an American bakery, to sell bread at prices prevailing in New York, is received with delight.

Cervera and Son Return to Annapolis.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 8.—Adm. Cervera and son returned to Annapolis Saturday morning on the 10 o'clock train from Baltimore, having arrived there on the Norfolk steamer. They were accompanied by a Roman Catholic priest. The admiral and son were granted only 45 hours' leave.

Porto Ricans Instructed Not to Resist to the Utmost.

New York, Aug. 8.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says: The government has given orders that the minister of war shall not force resistance in Porto Rico to the utmost. This is at the instigation of Premier Sagasta, who deprecates any unnecessary loss of life, knowing that Porto Rico will inevitably fall into the hands of the Americans. Capt. Gen. Macias has been instructed to obtain terms like those obtained by Gen. Toral or better.

Only a Few Unessential Changes in the American Demands Are Asked for by the Haughty Don.

LONDON, Aug. 8.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphing Sunday says:

"The answer of the Spanish government declares that Spain can not discuss the American proposals but only accepts them, because they are imposed on her by force. Only a few unessential changes in the American demands were asked for and it is not expected that President McKinley will refuse them.

"A commission composed of Spaniards and Americans will decide the question of the Cuban debt, the dates and manner of evacuating Cuba and Porto Rico and the protection of Spaniards and Spanish interests in these places. The commissioners will also decide whether Spain is to be allowed to withdraw her artillery and the remainder of her arms and ammunition from the colonies, while the question of the future of the Philippines will be settled by the same body.

"Treaty will be signed subject to approval by the cortes, which will be convoked immediately. The cabinet council Sunday night will appoint Spanish commissioners to meet the Americans to arrange as to the future of the Philippines and other details."

Army Movements in Porto Rico.

PONCE, Porto Rico, via St. Thomas, D. W. L., Aug. 8.—Gen. Wilson has moved the headquarters of his division from Ponce to Juana Diaz. Gen. Schwan, with the 11th regular infantry and two batteries moved Sunday through Yauco toward Mayaguez. Gen. Brooke is moving north from Guayama with 10,000 men.

Schoolboy Cuts His Teacher.

McKEE, Ky., Aug. 8.—Robert Holcomb, a young school teacher of this county, was dangerously cut with a knife by Arch Gobbard, one of his pupils. He undertook to correct young Gobbard for violating the rules of the school, and the boy, who is only 13 years old, stabbed him twice in the abdomen and cut an ugly wound in his breast. There is not much chance for his recovery. Gobbard is in jail. Holcomb is of a good family, while Gobbard has a bad reputation.

THREE HAPPY WOMEN.

A Trio of Fervent Letters to the Sympathetic Friend of Her Sex.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

Each Letter Tells in a Different Way of Agonies Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Before using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, my health was gradually being undermined. I suffered untold agony from painful menstruation, backache, pain on top of my head and ovarian trouble. I concluded to try Mrs. Pinkham's Compound, and found that it was all any woman-needs who suffers with painful monthly periods. It entirely cured me.

MRS. GEORGIE WASS,
923 Bank St., Cincinnati, O.

For years I had suffered with painful menstruation every month. At the beginning of menstruation it was impossible for me to stand up for more than five minutes, I felt so miserable. One day a little book of Mrs. Pinkham's was thrown into my house and down and read it. I then got some of Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Pills. I can heartily say that to-day new woman; my monthly suffering the past. I shall always praise Compound for what it has done for me.

MRS. MARGARET ANDERSON,
363 Lisbon St., Lewiston, Me.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured me of painful menstruation and backache. The pain in my back was dreadful, and the agony I suffered during menstruation nearly drove me wild. Now this is all over, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and advice.—MRS. CARRIE V. WILLIAMS, South Mills, N. C.

The great volume of testimony proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a safe, sure and almost infallible remedy in cases of irregularity, suppressed, excessive or painful monthly periods.

IT IS APPROVED.

The Cabinet Council Agrees to the Peace Terms of the United States.

The Spanish Government Believes That the Note Will Be Satisfactory to the Washington Government and That Hostilities Will Be Suspended.

MADRID, Aug. 8.—The cabinet council terminated after having completely approved the reply to the United States which, it is said, accepts the American conditions.

The reply was telegraphed to Senor Ceon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador to France, Saturday night, so that M. Cambon, the French ambassador at Washington, will receive it Monday.

The government is fully convinced that the note will be satisfactory to the Washington government, and that a suspension of hostilities will be its immediate consequence.

Senor Sagasta, the premier, has just concluded his conference with the queen regent. Her majesty approves the general lines of the reply of Spain to America's peace terms, which Senor Sagasta explained to her.

The reason for postponing the cabinet council until 6 o'clock Sunday evening was that the note was not yet fully drawn up. The government believes that the United States will accept Spain's answer, which will certainly reach the white house by Tuesday. As a consequence of the United States accepting the reply, hostilities will immediately afterwards be suspended.

As the reply to the American terms was only submitted to the queen regent Sunday, all the reports of her approval Saturday of the American demands are necessarily without foundation.

MADRID, Aug. 8.—According to the most reliable sources of information the Spanish note is couched in dignified language. It asserts that Spain bows to the force of circumstances, having done nothing to provoke the war, into which she has been unwillingly led in the defense of her rights and territory.

It expresses a willingness to appoint delegates to meet the American commission to discuss a regime for the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Although as yet without official confirmation of the report from Paris that the Spanish government has decided to accept the terms laid down by the United States as essential to the negotiation of a treaty of peace the officials here are proceeding under the conviction that the end has come and are giving attention to the steps to be taken next. In view of the delay in coming to this conclusion the idea was beginning to prevail that the Spanish government was about to enter a plea in abatement and that the answer would again be inconclusive. In this case the president was disposed to deal firmly with the issue; to give notice that our proposals were withdrawn, and to let it be understood that when Spain again sued for peace the conditions would be more severe than those first laid down. If the Spanish answer should embody an effort to secure any material change in the conditions it will meet with prompt rejection. Some reference has been made in the dispatches of British newspapers to a desire on the part of the Spanish government to include in the preliminary agreement a clause exempting it from liability for the Cuban debt. The formal statement of the points of the United States notes given out from the white house made no reference to this subject and it can not be known as yet whether or not the full text shows anything more. But presuming that no reference whatever is made to the Cuban debt, it is possible the subject may be regarded as one that should be treated by the peace commissioners, who are to meet later to for the treaty, which, of course, will embody many details that are left untouched in the main proposition, though cabinet officers have authorized the statement that no part of the Cuban or Porto Rican debts would be assumed by the United States. Based upon the Associated Press reports of the progress being made at Madrid toward returning the answer of Spain it was calculated by the department officials that the formal note could not be delivered to the president before Monday, and that was also the belief of the French ambassador.

Attack by Sea on San Juan Reported. WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—At midnight an unofficial report was current that the bombardment of San Juan had commenced, and that a part of Gen. Miles' forces had been pushed forward toward the city on the land side. Officials at the war and navy departments say they have no dispatches concerning the news.

Cavalry and Artillery for Porto Rico. NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Aug. 8.—The transport Manitoba, with Pennsylvania cavalry and artillery and United States mail for Porto Rico, has sailed. The remainder of Gen. Grant's expedition is still waiting for transports.

On the Way to Honolulu. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—The transport steamer Lakme and Charles G. Nelson, bearing five companies of the 1st New York volunteers and the 2d United States volunteer engineers, sailed for Honolulu Saturday.

CONTROL EAST PORTO RICO.

The American Troops Have Invaded the Territory Without Serious Resistance From the Spaniards.

AT DESCALABRODO RIVER, Six Miles Beyond Juan Diaz, on the Road to San Juan, Aug. 4, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 6.—The 16th Pennsylvania, of Gen. Ernest's brigade, advanced to this point to-day and holds the bridge over the river.

The 2d and 3d Wisconsin are expected to-morrow. No sign of the enemy is reported, but it is believed that the Spaniards are about 400 strong between this point and Coama.

The seizure of the bridge insures control of the road to Coama. Pickets are being pushed out and they may collide with the Spanish outposts.

OFF SAN JUAN DE PORTO RICO, Aug. 4, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 6.—The Americans have taken peaceful possession of the eastern portion of the island. Small parties of marines have been landed, who have lighted lamps in the light house at Cape San Juan and other light houses along the coast. They met with no resistance. Indeed, at Cape San Juan deputations of citizens came out to meet them.

The war ships now in this vicinity are the Montgomery, the Annapolis, the Puritan and the Amphitrite. The two former are looking for the transports with troops, which left the United States and have scattered all about the island. The Annapolis rounded up the Whitney, the Florida and the Raleigh yesterday and they are now at Cape San Juan.

There seems to have been a serious mistake as to the rendezvous, for no two ships got to the same place and it will take several days to locate them and get them to Ponce, where Gen. Miles is waiting.

OFF SAN JUAN the cruiser New Orleans alone maintains the blockade. The city is grim and silent, but back of her yellow walls there will be plenty of determination and fight when the Americans open fire.

Capt. Gen. Macias has issued a proclamation, in the course of which he says:

"Spain has not sued for peace, and I can drive off the American boats now as I did Sampson's attempt before."

The daughter of the captain general is helping to drill the gunners in the forts. Altogether there are 9,500 Spanish regulars in the city. The troops of the enemy, who are retreating from Ponce and the other towns on the south coast occupied by the Americans have not yet arrived.

The German steamer Polynesia, with a cargo of rum, canned meats and tobacco, tried to run the blockade this morning but was stopped by the New Orleans.

PONCE, Porto Rico, Aug. 5, via St. Thomas, D. W. I., Aug. 6.—Maj. Gen. Miles is proceeding entirely without regard to peace negotiations. Krag-Jorgensen's are being used. The 2d and 3d Wisconsin moved up to the 16th Pennsylvania Friday. Col. Hulings has captured 5,000 pounds of rice. Thus far the enemy has not molested him.

Maj. Gen. Brooke's landing at Arroyo is successful.

The troops from the Roumanian, four batteries of the 27th Indiana, the 1st Missouri, the 1st Pennsylvania and the 3d Illinois are disembarking there. The Morgan troop of the 5th cavalry and the Mississippi commissaries have arrived here.

Lieut. Hunter, of the artillery, was slightly wounded by one of our pickets Thursday night. Capt. Edgar Hugar, who died of typhoid fever, has been buried with military honors. Gen. Roy Stone is repairing the road to Arrecibo, but a movement there is improbable.

Adj. Gen. Kingsley Roasts Roosevelt.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 8.—Adj. Gen. Kingsley was very much perturbed Friday morning over the reflections cast upon the national guard volunteers by Col. Theodore Roosevelt. "Col. Roosevelt is," he said, "a very young soldier to grow so presumptuous. The reports of the battle of Santiago show that the volunteers made up from the national guard were fully as efficient and brave as the rough riders and were perhaps better led. I am willing to back the 1st Ohio cavalry, troop for troop, and man for man, against the rough riders as cavalry, mounted or dismounted, as soldiers or as men, and I do not fear the comparison."

Lee's Command Will Go to Havana.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—There is a report in official circles that orders have already been sent to Maj. Gen. Lee, at Jacksonville, to prepare his forces for an early move to Havana. It is the opinion of many of the best posted ones that Gen. Lee will, after the occupation of Cuba, be appointed military governor. It is expected that Col. Wm. J. Bryan's regiment will go to Cuba with Lee.

Very Old Bank Notes.

RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 6.—E. O. Dunham, of this city, has a large and valuable collection of relics. One of them is an old bank note of 1780, good for 25 Spanish milled dollars, and another is a bill issued by a Brookville (Ind.) bank in 1818.

Capt. Clark Ordered Home.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Capt. Charles E. Clark, commander of the Oregon, has been condemned by a medical survey at Santiago and will be sent home from Guantanamo at once.

MANILA TOPICS.

Gen. Aguinaldo, the Insurgent Chief, Makes Two Propositions.

He Also Suggests the Formation of Philippine Regiments With American Officers—Merritt Considers This as a Possible Key.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—A dispatch to the World from Manila by way of Hong Kong says:

Aguinaldo, the insurgent chief, is becoming more friendly to the Americans.

He has made two propositions to Gen. Merritt which may solve the insurgent problem in a manner highly advantageous to the United States.

In the first place, he asks the commander-in-chief of the American land forces to permit the rebel troops to march through the streets of Manila when the city surrenders.

Gen. Merritt appears inclined to consent to this. It would gratify the vanity of the natives to let them indulge in what will seem to them a triumphal march as victors through the capital when the city surrenders.

At the same time the native troops being thus arrayed in line and under direct orders, may be more easily controlled and prevented from excesses.

In the second place, Aguinaldo suggested the formation of Philippine regiments with American officers.

This is considered a highly important proposition, a possible key to the whole situation throughout the islands. The native troops would thus be constantly under the eyes and direct orders of our men. It is believed that they would be obedient and easily controlled under tactful commanders.

The American troops now occupy the trenches in front of Malate, a suburb of Manila, which were constructed by Aguinaldo. The rebels withdrew to let our men take their places close to the Spanish lines.

The Astor battery supported by a battalion of the 3d infantry, is now in position at the front, its guns being planted within a thousand yards of the Spanish lines.

Fathers Daugherty and McKinnon, the former being on Gen. Merritt's staff, have gone to Manila to have an interview with Archbishop Nozaleda, of the archdiocese of the Philippines, and to point out to him the futility of resistance to American troops.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "The prospect of America abandoning the Philippines has well brought on a panic. The insurgent leaders are greatly dissatisfied with the Americans and the British here. Mr. Wildman, the United States consul, has replied to Aguinaldo as follows: 'I trust to the honor and justice of the United States and let nothing interfere with the first task of throwing off the Spanish yoke. I believe in you. Do not disappoint me.'"

Shooting at a Picnic.

GREENUP, Ky., Aug. 6.—At a picnic on White Oak, this county, Alf Ruggles shot Sam Ratcliff and John Wingo in the arms and legs seriously.

Anglo-Russian War Scare.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Anglo-Russian war scare is spreading beyond political circles, and the stock market is seriously depressed, consols being included in the decline. Alarmist reports of Russian preparations are coming from several quarters with intimations that Russia is deliberately forcing a crisis in the far east. Diplomacy is extraordinarily active, and the wires between London and St. Petersburg have been monopolized for the past 24 hours by government business.

Strike Riot at Oshkosh.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Aug. 6.—A serious riot occurred Friday morning at the Morgan plant and the strikers prevented the mill from starting until 10 o'clock. Several of the strikers were injured, but none seriously. Nine women and seven men were arrested and charged with rioting. The chief of police and an officer were badly hurt Thursday night in a fight at the Wisconsin Central depot, where a mob had congregated. Women and children form a large part of the rioters.

Immunization Ordered to Santiago.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Orders were issued at the war department Friday morning, sending three immune regiments from Macon, Ga., and five immune regiments from Columbus, Miss., to Savannah, Ga., from which point they will start for Santiago Sunday or Monday. The 10th immune regiment now at New Orleans has been ordered to Tampa and will be shipped as soon as possible. Two regiments of immune are already at Santiago.

It is Feared That It Has Been Cabled to Madrid and May Delay the Peace Negotiations.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Aside from the inborn desire of the Spaniard to postpone doing things the reports of the condition of the American army at Santiago by Roosevelt and others may encourage Sagasta to hold out against President McKinley's terms of peace. Efforts were made Thursday to prevent the information from reaching Madrid. Cable censors barred from the wires all reference to Roosevelt's review of the situation and the round robin of the American officers.

But there was nothing to prevent members of the diplomatic corps sending the fact to their governments in cipher. Once in the possession of the European powers, the information would quickly be transmitted to Madrid, and that has undoubtedly been done.

As an example of the concessions made by President McKinley to Spain, it is reported Friday that he has granted a request that the treaty of peace be signed in Paris.

Volunteer Regiments Will Next Be Shipped in the Following Order: 1st Illinois, 1st District of Columbia, 71st New York, 9th Massachusetts, 2d Massachusetts, 8th Illinois, 33d Michigan and 24th Michigan. All these regiments have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to go on board transports Saturday, or as soon after as possible. All troops will first be examined by a medical board, and any suspicious cases will be left in the hospital.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 6.—The 2d Alabama regiment arrived here Friday from Miami and went into camp along with the Louisiana regiment in the eastern part of the city.

War Department Worried Over the Effect the Round-Robin Will Have on the Santiago Troops.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The war department is much worried over the situation at Santiago, not from fear of any additional danger from the fever, but from the effect upon the soldiers of the action of the officers in almost creating a panic. The officials state that they have been working for weeks to prevent just what seems to have happened, a stampede among the soldiers, and if the men get disorganized it may cause trouble.

Soldiers could not be rushed pell mell on board the transports, because, if they did the conditions of the Seneca, Concho and other transports which came back with the wounded would be repeated, and again it was not possible to remove all the soldiers at once while the Spanish prisoners were still in Cuba.

Over two weeks ago a lease was made for the camp at Montauk Point, and two weeks ago work was begun on hospitals at that place. The war department notified Gen. Shafter fully two weeks ago to get ready to move his troops and only gave orders to send them to the mountains pending their removal altogether. Orders were under way to experiment by sending parties of cavalry home on the Louisiana, as it was thought advisable not to transport the entire army until it was found that the Louisiana made a successful trip. There was no intention to keep the army at Santiago de Cuba during August, and transports were ordered to leave that place just as soon as possible after the Louisiana had made her trip. The action of the officers in sending the round robin, the officials of the war department here claim, has stamped the soldiers and destroyed to some extent discipline and order, which is necessary in the army. However, the officials at the war department are now straining every effort to hasten the return of Gen. Shafter's troops, and they will be removed as soon as they possibly can be. It will be impossible to remove all of them as long as the Spaniards remain there, but as soon as the regiments of immune arrive they will take the places of the regiments on duty and these will be sent home as soon as transportation can bring them.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 6.—The embarkation of Shafter's troops for the United States began Friday. Gen. Shafter's orders for the movement of this command provide for the following programme: Embarkation of 3d and 6th regular cavalry, then the 1st regular cavalry and the 1st volunteer cavalry (rough riders) will be embarked. These have been ordered to be ready to go on board ship Sunday. For the present the 9th and 10th cavalry will remain in camp. Only private horses of the officers will be taken. Other horses will be turned over to Gen. Wood, who will designate an officer to receive them. Gen. Wood will remain here as military governor. All the tents will be left standing, and all extra worn clothing and bedding, which may possibly be infected, will be destroyed.

The 1st brigade, of Gen. Lawton's division, under Gen. Chaffee, will go next. All men able to ride will be put on ponies and taken to the wharf. Others will be conveyed there in wagons. All men suffering from yellow fever or infectious diseases will be left here. Every precaution will be taken to provide for the safe and healthy arrival of the men in the north.

Volunteer regiments will next be shipped in the following order: 1st Illinois, 1st District of Columbia, 71st New York, 9th Massachusetts, 2d Massachusetts, 8th Illinois, 33d Michigan and 24th Michigan. All these regiments have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to go on board transports Saturday, or as soon after as possible. However, the officials at the war department are now straining every effort to hasten the return of Gen. Shafter's troops, and they will be removed as soon as they possibly can be. It will be impossible to remove all of them as long as the Spaniards remain there, but as soon as the regiments of immune arrive they will take the places of the regiments on duty and these will be sent home as soon as transportation can bring them.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 6.—The embarkation of Shafter's troops for the United States began Friday. Gen. Shafter's orders for the movement of this command provide for the following programme: Embarkation of 3d and 6th regular cavalry, then the 1st regular cavalry and the 1st volunteer cavalry (rough riders) will be embarked. These have been ordered to be ready to go on board ship Sunday. For the present the 9th and 10th cavalry will remain in camp. Only private horses of the officers will be taken. Other horses will be turned over to Gen. Wood, who will designate an officer to receive them. Gen. Wood will remain here as military governor. All the tents will be left standing, and all extra worn clothing and bedding, which may possibly be infected, will be destroyed.

The 1st brigade, of Gen. Lawton's division, under Gen. Chaffee, will go next. All men able to ride will be put on ponies and taken to the wharf. Others will be conveyed there in wagons. All men suffering from yellow fever or infectious diseases will be left here. Every precaution will be taken to provide for the safe and healthy arrival of the men in the north.

Volunteer regiments will next be shipped in the following order: 1st Illinois, 1st District of Columbia, 71st New York, 9th Massachusetts, 2d Massachusetts, 8th Illinois, 33d Michigan and 24th Michigan. All these regiments have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to go on board transports Saturday, or as soon after as possible. All troops will first be examined by a medical board, and any suspicious cases will be left in the hospital.

Lieut. Steele Dies of Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The following cablegram has been received at the war department from Santiago, via Hayti:

Adjutant General, U. S. A. Washington: First Lieut. James B. Steele, signal corps, U. S. volunteer, died of yellow fever at 2 a. m. this day.

LA GARDE, Surgeon.

Movement of Illinois Troops.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 6.—Gov. Tanner received a telegram from the war department late Friday afternoon that the 8th Illinois infantry, colored, had been ordered to Santiago de Cuba to replace the 1st Illinois infantry, which will be removed to Long Island. It will be two or three days before the 8th will leave Springfield.

Rumored Roosevelt Will Resign.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—It is rumored here that Theodore Roosevelt has signified his intention of resigning his commission as colonel of the rough riders, as soon as he shall have gotten his command home. Confirmation of the report can not be obtained.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 6.—The 2d Alabama regiment arrived here Friday from Miami and went into camp along with the Louisiana regiment in the eastern part of the city.

War Department Worried Over the Effect the Round-Robin Will Have on the Santiago Troops.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—The war department is much worried over the situation at Santiago, not from fear of any additional danger from the fever, but from the effect upon the soldiers of the action of the officers in almost creating a panic. The officials state that they have been working for weeks to prevent just what seems to have happened, a stampede among the soldiers, and if the men get disorganized it may cause trouble.

Soldiers could not be rushed pell mell on board the transports, because, if they did the conditions of the Seneca, Concho and other transports which came back with the wounded would be repeated, and again it was not possible to remove all the soldiers at once while the Spanish prisoners were still in Cuba.

Over two weeks ago a lease was made for the camp at Montauk Point, and two weeks ago work was begun on hospitals at that place. The war department notified Gen. Shafter fully two weeks ago to get ready to move his troops and only gave orders to send them to the mountains pending their removal altogether. Orders were under way to experiment by sending parties of cavalry home on the Louisiana, as it was thought advisable not to transport the entire army until it was found that the Louisiana made a successful trip. There was no intention to keep the army at Santiago de Cuba during August, and transports were ordered to leave that place just as soon as possible after the Louisiana had made her trip. The action of the officers in sending the round robin, the officials of the war department here claim, has stamped the soldiers and destroyed to some extent discipline and order, which is necessary in the army. However, the officials at the war department are now straining every effort to hasten the return of Gen. Shafter's troops, and they will be removed as soon as they possibly can be. It will be impossible to remove all of them as long as the Spaniards remain there, but as soon as the regiments of immune arrive they will take the places of the regiments on duty and these will be sent home as soon as transportation can bring them.

Late News of the War.

A Spanish paper says Spain cannot cede territory without the consent of the Cortez, and anticipates an exchange of cables and fresh difficulties before peace is declared.

Spain's reply was telegraphed to Paris (France) yesterday for transmission to Washington D-ciphering and translation will delay delivering till this morning. The first section of the reply reached the French Embassy at 3:15 yesterday afternoon and it indicated a very lengthy reply. It is stated unofficially that Spain's reply will not be satisfactory as it contains features that are calculated to open up new difficulties.

On page two appears the Roosevelt-Alger correspondence. Also other Santiago and Washington dispatches of later dates.

On page three are Madrid, Porto Rico and Philippine war dispatches, and other late news from the scene of action.

The Ninth District Democrats will meet to-morrow at Cynthiana to nominate a candidate for Congress. The contest is between J. N. Kehoe, of Mason, and Waller Sharp, of Bath.

Chickamauga Correspondence.

[Louisville Dispatch.]

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 7.—(Special.)—The boys of the Second Kentucky will in all probability break camp during the present week and go on a practice march to some point yet to be decided upon by Col. Gaither. The present plan is for the boys to go on a seven days' march, but Col. Gaither is using all of his efforts to obtain permission to go on a thirty days' march. If he succeeds in having his desire gratified he will march the boys back to old Kentucky. If he fails to secure the thirty days' march the regiment will probably go to Dayton, Tenn., which place the colonel now has in view.

The boys are greatly pleased over the idea of the march, as it will relieve the monotony of the present camp life. They hope the regiment will obtain permission from the war department to go back to Kentucky, as they would then have a chance of seeing home and they are confident that they would have a royal good time during the visit. It will probably be definitely decided within the next day or two where the regiment will go.

The Second battalion will go on the rifle range Tuesday, where they will endeavor to perfect themselves in placing a bullet in the proper place to count in battle. The First battalion had a most successful shoot on the range, and the boys are confident that they will be able to hold the record for the entire regiment. The Second is also just as confident, and they are of the opinion that they will be capable of showing the First a few points in reference to target practice.

Capt. William M. Ekin, the brigade quartermaster, visited Col. Gaither to day and held a consultation with him in reference to the equipping and moving of the regiment.

Gen Breckinridge and his aide, Lieut Desha Breckinridge, visited the regiment to-day and the general was greatly pleased with the appearance of the boys. He visited the regimental bath house and complimented Col. Gaither highly on its usefulness.

There is no doubt but that it is a great addition to the camp and one should be placed in operation by every regiment in the park.

The Second Kentucky.

THE boys of the Second Kentucky Friday received a compliment of which they are very proud, says the Chattanooga Times. Gen. Breckinridge, who had been watching the regiment informed Col. Gaither, who was a visitor at the General's headquarters, that the regiment was one of the best in the park in almost every particular. The boys are highly delighted with the compliment, and are of the opinion that if the General only speaks a word in their behalf that before the regiments in Gen. Wade's provisional division are ordered out they will be included in the list.

The First battalion has completed target practice at one hundred yards, and is now shooting at two hundred yards. The records made at one hundred yards were among the finest that have been made by any regiment in the park, and Col. Gaither is confident that the boys will keep up this lick at two hundred yards. Some very high compliments have been paid the battalion for the number of surprisingly fine shots among the men.

Suffered 20 Years.

MRS. MARY LEWIS, wife of a prominent farmer, and well known by all old residents near Belmont, N. Y., writes: "For twenty-seven years I had been a constant sufferer from nervous prostration, and paid large sums of money for doctors and advertised remedies without benefit. Three years ago my condition was alarming; the least noise would startle and unnerve me. I was unable to sleep, had a number of sinking spells and slowly grew worse. I began using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Nerve Liver Pills. At first the medicine seemed to have no effect, but after taking a few bottles I began to notice a change; I rested better at night, my appetite began to improve and I rapidly grew better, until now I am as nearly restored to health as one of my age may expect. God bless Dr. Miles' Nervine."

THE report of the Garth Fund Commissioners was accepted and approved yesterday by the Fiscal Court, and it was ordered that in accordance with said report the persons named below be paid the sums opposite their names, for the fall session, 1898, or one half of the ensuing school year.

Jesse Alexander	$ 37 50
Ware Berry	60 00
Jack Carter	60 00
David Cline	25 00
Henry Bailey	90 00
Talbot Ford	100 00
Robert Hunt	40 00
Frank Kiser	50 00
Monroe Mausfield	37 50
Ira Soper	22 50

Beck Sinopshire	37 50
Dean Squires	25 00
Graham Smedley	90 00
Michael Comack	50 00

Three of the old beneficiaries have finished school and are therefore not included in the above list. No new names were added, and the allowances made were for the Fall session only, because the major portion of the Garth Fund is invested in Northern Bank shares. Dr. Geo. S. Varden, Col. E. F. Clay and Hon. E. M. Dickson, the Garth Fund Commissioners, were re-elected by the Court.

[Murray Ledger.]

Ben Keys, Jr., was out riding on his bicycle the other day when he rode over a black snake about six feet long. The snake became entangled in the front wheel of the bike, and for a time one could not have told whether Ben or the snake was in possession of the wheel. With every revolution his snakeship would stride Ben in the back, then come over and slap him in the face and on the hands. Ben took his No. 11's off the pedals and spread them far apart, but being on a slant the wheel kept going and the snake kept striking until it got its head ground off in the chain of the bicycle. Ben has sold his wheel.

Oh, the Pain of Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I tried several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but was unable to get the slightest relief. In fact, my condition seemed to grow worse, the disease spread over my entire body, and from November to March I suffered agony. I tried many patent medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to try S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was cured completely. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism, though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.

Mr. Ashbrook Frank, who is known to many persons in this city, will be professor of mathematics and astronomy in the same college. The President of the college, Mr. Jas. D. Haulin, is also a graduate of Kentucky University.

A nice line of new lamps just received at J. T. Hinton's.

Bleated Bond Holders.

PARIS doubtless has as many bleated bond holders as any city of similar size in Kentucky. It is believed that Parisians subscribed for at least $100,000 worth of the new government bonds. One citizen, it is said, getting $15,000 worth by having friends make small subscriptions for him. The L. & N. attaches in this city subscribed liberally for the new bonds. One Parisian subscribed for $10,000, but it was rejected because smaller subscriptions exhausted the issue.

Paris' Free Street Fair.

THE merchants and citizens of Paris have liberally contributed to the fund for giving a two-days' free street fair, and Wednesday and Thursday, August 17th and 18th, have been selected for the gala days.

Street fairs are an innovation in Kentucky and all visitors to Paris on the 17th and 18th will be greatly pleased by the novel program being arranged for their entertainment. Many of the points of the old-time fairs are preserved while no end of new and startling features will be introduced in Paris for the first time—and everything will be free to the big crowd who are coming in to have a good time and spend their money—just as they please but none of it for admission tickets—all the sights are free.

Watch for the premium list—you may be able to capture some of them—and many of them will be very substantial and well worth having. Lots of humorous exhibitions, too.

You must not miss seeing the street parade, the balloon ascensions, the fire works and all the attractive booths, etc.—and above all you must witness the street wedding. Lots of nice gifts are to be contributed to the lucky groom and bride who unite for better or worse. Below are mentioned some of the substantial gifts:

FIRST—Benj. Perry, dealer in stoves, ranges, tin and plumbing goods, makes the valuable present of a cooking stove to the bridal couple. When in Paris, "remember the sign of the Red Stove."

SECOND—$1,000.00 free to the couple to be married at the Street Fair, Aug. 17th-18th. The "Old Reliable," The Manhattan Life Insurance Co., of New York, offers a policy for $1,000.00, paid for one year. See sample policy in Twin Bros. window. Hugh Montgomery agent.

THIRD—One year's subscription to THE BOURBON NEWS.

And there are other nice presents. Several gentlemen have already declared their intention of being the lucky bride-groom and there is much speculation as to who the happy pair will be. A hearty invitation is extended to the citizens of the neighboring towns to come to the fair, and they won't regret coming.

At a citizens' meeting last night Mr. Wallace Mitchell was selected Grand Marshal, and Messrs. R. Q. Thomson, Hugh Montgomery, A. J. Winters, R. J. N. L. Perry (chairman), Randolph Davis, Geo. Rassenfoss, L. W. Gibson, J. T. Hinton, J. M. O'Brien, Geo. D. Mitchell and Walter Champ were named as a Committee on Arrangements.

FEMININE FASHIONS.

The Materials Most in Favor of the Ladies for Summer Costumes.Foulard silks and satins are in marked favor this summer.Large orders have been placed with manufacturers for lustrous white corded silks and heavy but soft-finished cream and ivory-white satins for evening toilets next season.Pink in every tint and tone will be in great use this autumn and winter
for evening gowns for youthful wearers, for dressy opera-toques and bon-nets, for trimmings, and linings for round hats, and for lining velvet and cream-colored capes for ball and theater wear.A noted French designer uses very pretty basket-weave silks in small checks of rose-color, cream and green,
fawn color, geranium pink, and violet,
ecru, petunia and wood brown, for smart little gowns made with a gimp matching one of the colors in the check, covered with silk net, with sleeve-puffs to match. The skirts are trimmed with pinked frills or ruffles from hem to hips.Many of the pretty silk, crepe de Chine and veiling dresses are finished with three tiny frills of ribbon, lap-ping each other, and gathered moderately full. These frills, though not novelties, are newer than those made of the dress goods, and they are given a novel effect by the deft manner in which they are adjusted, and by the beauty of the various two-toned or double-faced ribbons used. If the frills are made a bit too wide the effect is spoiled. They must not measure, all told, more than three inches; therefore, ribbons a trifle over an inch wide
are the proper selection.The newest Vienna cloths for traveling, yachting and cycling are wide diagonals of very fine, soft wool, roughly woven in a single color such as gray, blue, or fawn, and notably in navy blue, or else in two shades of a color. More novel than these are the pretty diagonals in contrasting colors,
green with brown or violet, gray with rose or silver, blue with white or almond. Raised silk cords form stripes in black or dark brown on sheer lightweight wools of delicate summer
coloring.Some of the most beautiful goods in the elegant outfits for the summer are the French and India muslins, and the daintiest sort of evening gowns as well as those for dressy afternoon wear, are made of batiste, especially in flowered cream-white with trimmings of cream lace. Some of the fashionably made gowns have the muslin or batiste skirt hung over a second one of plain organdy, the tint of the background of the dress fabric. This skirt is cut exactly like the outside one, and either plainly hemmed or finished with a lace-edged ruffle. The silk underslip is worn beneath. This arrangement is followed when a very airy effect is desired. In other cases the silk slip alone is used.—N. Y. Post.

PERFECT COFFEE.

It is Not at All Difficult to Make and with the Simplest of Utensils.It would seem as though the days of coffee makelifts or materials that take the place of coffee were gone by,
and the demand for new varieties of coffee machines or coffee-pots. There never was any need of a patented
coffee-pot, and though many excellent contrivances have been invented to take the place of the care and intelligence needed to make a perfect cup of coffee, none of them seem to satisfy the public, for whom they were invented. The best coffee that ever was made can be made in a common earthen pipkin, such as the human race has used for a cooking utensil
since the days of old Egypt and centuries before the coffee bean was known.Procure the best coffee. A mixture of equal parts of Java, Mocha, and with some people one part of Mari-caibo, is generally popular. Let the coffee be freshly browned and ground.
It may be boiled or dipped in French style in a coffee biggin. If it is to be boiled put it into a pipkin, stir in eggshell and the white of an egg with a cup of coarsely ground coffee,
add half a cup of cold water, and stir.
Pour on three points of boiling water
and bring the coffee to the boiling point and let it boil steadily five minutes. Add a quarter of a cup of cold water to settle it, and set it back where it can boil again. Slowly strain
it into a heated porcelain or stoneware coffee-pot and serve the coffee
with cream.—N. Y. Tribune.

FROSTED CURRANTS.

Mix four tablespoonfuls of water
with the well-beaten whites of two eggs. Select very fine bunches of currants, and dip them, a bunch at a time, into the beaten egg; let them
drain for a few minutes, then roll them in finely-powdered sugar. Lay them to dry on paper, and the sugar
will crystallize round each currant, giving them the appearance of being frosted. When served on a glass dish with a border of fresh green currant leaves, the effect is exceedingly pretty.—Good Housekeeping.

Suet Johnny Cake.

One cupful of suet, one cupful flour and one of corn-meal (which has had one cupful of hot water poured upon it), one cupful of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one tablespoonful of sugar or molasses and one egg if you like; "twill do without, but is better with."—Ladies World.

BE HAPPY AS YOU CAN.

This life is not all sunshine,
Nor yet is it all showers,
But storms and calms alternate,
As thorns among the flowers;
And while we seek the roses,
The thorns full oft we scan,
Still let us, though they wound us,
Be happy as we can.This life has heavy crosses
As well as joys to share,
And griefs and disappointments
Which you and I must bear;
Yea, if misfortune's lava
Entombs hope's dearest plan,
Let us, with what is left us,
Be happy as we can.The sum of our enjoyment
Is made of little things,
As oft the broadest rivers
Are formed from smallest springs;
By treasuring small waters,
The rivers reach their span;
So we increase our pleasures,
Enjoying what we can.There may be burning deserts
Through which our feet must go,
But there are green oases
Where pleasant palm trees grow;
And if we may not follow
The path our hearts would plan,
Let us make all around us
As happy as we can.

II.—CONTINUED.

"I would ask you to come in, but I have my little part, you know—and I should hate to have you hear me say it," Faith apologized. She spoke with greater freedom, in a full, low voice charged with womanly feeling. The ride through the dark woods had proved to be one of those perilous short cuts to sudden intimacy, for better or worse, by which the way of acquaintance is abridged for the young and fearless. The life of the frontier is remarkably productive of such opportunities, and it seems to be a question of family and past history with the high contracting parties, whether these facile roads lead to the divorce courts and the newspapers, or to those faithful and inconspicuous comradeships which we all know of, and seldom read of, in the published stories of the west; western marriages being like western mortgages—it is the ones that don't pay interest of which we chiefly hear.

"What shall you say if anybody asks you questions?" Faith inquired. "Is it necessary to say anything?"

"I have to say things; the moment the door opens I have to be ready with my lie."

"We had better say the same thing, hadn't we?" Darcie suggested. "What do you generally call it when he is—"

"What?"

"You have some name for it, haven't you? Headache, indigestion, cramps?"

"Oh, mercy!" the girl implored. "Say again what you said at the cabin. I thought it perfectly imbecile at the time, but I suppose it will do as well as anything."

"He'd been pounding down the mountain on a—"

"Not on 'a brute of a horse!' Everybody knows what Colonel is."

"Got himself wet to the skin," Darcie replied. "Ate a monstrous supper too soon after—"

"He ate no supper at all! Don't say things you needn't say, just for the pleasure of inventing."

"Leave out the supper, then. But the supper's the best reason of all."

"And this you call a little thing!"
cried Faith, tragically.

"Did I say little? I meant it was a common thing."

"Well, men surely are not proud! This,
then, is the common weakness!"

"Almost any weakness is common with our half of humanity," Darcie allowed; "but God knows, a man may be easy on a fault that's not his own!"

"The young men have no faults, I suppose," Faith exclaimed, bitterly.
"Charity and forgiveness are for the poor, slipshod fathers, too old to be cured of their weakness!" It was her "wound's imperious anguish" that
spoke in this unnatural tone.

Darcie answered humbly, constrained by the pricking of his conscience, and not unwilling, perhaps, to draw her attention upon himself:

"I know one young man who is in need of forgiveness—of yours, if you could spare him a little of it. I wish to confess, before I leave you, to a fault in my position toward yourself—a most damaging, fatal inconsistency."

"A fault—toward me? You must be dreaming! When have you ever seen me before to-night?"

"Never; and yet I did you an unconscious injury before I knew of your existence. I am in a cruelly equivocal position."

"I am not in a very nice position myself," Faith grieved.

"But it is not your own doing. I am speaking of acts—my own, on my own responsibility."

"Cannot you get out of this position?"

"I shall be out of it by to-morrow's eastern mail. But I want your forgiveness to-night. The thing sticks in my record; I don't know what moment it might turn up and injure me with you."

"I don't think it can be very serious,"
said Faith, "if you can get out of it so easily. I wish I could send all my worries away by to-morrow's eastern mail,
if I were sure they would not travel to anybody I care for!"

"But my forgiveness?" the penitent
persisted, in love with confessing to such a confessor.

"Why, I forgive you anything, everything. What is there I am not bound to forgive, after to-night?"

"But I do not want it that way. You shall not be bound. Let us be more explicit; suppose I should tell you plainly that I am not what you think I am?"

"I think you are a gentleman and a true friend. Are you not that?" asked Faith.

"I hope so, and much more—as much more than your friend, as you will allow."

"That is enough," said Faith, hurriedly. "Yes; enough to thank Heaven for, after such a night as this! Think of the place where I might have been left!
Now, good night, and more thanks than
I can say!"

But Darcie would not take his dismissal. "Must I go?" he frankly despaired. "And I have not the dimmest idea how I shall ever see you again."

"But I am always here, if you really wish to see me," Faith smiled sedately
in the darkness. "It would be strange
if we forgot all about you, after what you have done for us."

"That is the last thing I should wish you to remember me for!" Darcie spurned her gratitude.

"Well, I can't help but thank you,
whether you like it or not. If my father should ask you to dinner, would
you despise that sort of remembrance,
too?"

There was an unexpected silence.
Then Darcie said:

"It is not likely I shall be asked to dine at the Big Horn. The Black Dwarf is a small affair, and I am a miner—
partner of Mike McGowan."

"A miner may be anybody," said
Mike, "but I don't see how you can be Faith. She spoke coldly, and Darcie, though he could not see her face, knew she was hurt. He was furious with his absurd entanglements, from which he longed to tear himself free, all at once,
before it should be too late; he could not even tell her what they were."

"You think I am mysterious?"

"I have no reason to think so; no mystery is needed to account for your not caring to dine with my father—
after to-night."

"Heaven and earth!" groaned Darcie.
"I told you it would stick. Yet you would understand it, if I could only tell you."

"I will understand," said Faith, quickly, "without understanding. Good night!"

He kept hold of her hand while she hurriedly warned him: "I heard them go to the other door, but they are coming here now. Good night—you must go!"

"Please—one moment!" he entreated.
"There was something I wanted to say to you—just for the last word, to remember. Do you know a flower they call the mountain lily? You never could forget it if you saw it. I never knew before to-night why it was here—
the exquisite thing—a perfect wonder! But every coming has its heralds; there are foretokens of joy as well as sorrow. I found you when I found the mountain lily. Oh, do you understand me—my joy—my sorrow?
Which is it going to be? No; I don't ask you! Don't tell me!"

"You are crazy!" gasped Faith.

"I know it. But at least there's excuse for it. I have found you, my mountain lily!"

He dropped his face an instant on her hand. Then he rushed for his horse and rode away.

"Where are you going?" Faith called after him, for he had taken, or rather Colonel had taken, the lower road, to the stable. Faith's horse, tied to the hitching post, whinnied after his comrade. Darcie did not hear the girl's call, but he had discovered his mistake, and was making it unpleasant for Colonel. There was a scuffling of hoofs in the road, a grunt from the horse as he was forced around in the way he did not want to go, and back
they came, and charged up the trail into the deep timber. Faith had laughed weakly until she cried. She was shocked at herself for laughing;
but that was not why she cried.

"O, father, father!" she whispered, tragically. But that was not why she cried. There was a stir underneath the dark porch, after the girl had gone slowly, giddily, up the stairs, and the house door had shut.

"That horse was Colonel. Where's
the old man, then?" a voice inquired.

"I guess they've put him in his little bed somewhere between here and Canon Creek; at the Black Dwarf, likely," another voice rejoined.

"At the Black Dwarf, you bet. That was McGowan's partner, the Englishman," said a heavy, suppressed voice,
in a tone of authority.

"Lads, did ye hear him chewin' the scenery, givin' himself away like a play actor? I'm not what ye think I am," says he. "I'm in a cruel quizzical position." You're solid there, me chappie—quizzical you'll find it. There's comin' a snowslide in these mountains,
and some that's on top now will be lyin'
underneath, and they won't be lookin' for their hat!"

"There were dissenting voices to this implied train of reasoning."

"What's he got to do with snow-slides?" asked one.

"You can't make evidence out of such rot as he was talkin'," said another—"a young fellow turnin' his chin loose about his mash!"

"Evidence, is it? Here's the evidence if ye want it," said the first voice. "He calls himself Jack Darcie; it may be his name, or it may be only a name as them. He chins wid us an' listens to our talk, but he's too fancy for a miner.
Malony's widdy does his washin', and he chucks her a dollar as aisy as two bits. He's a bird, he's a swell, and makes out he's a workin' man like the rest av us. His han'kyelers are marked wid a monnygram, and there's more letters in it than J. D. He writes big,
thick letters, and posts them himself;

he walks to Wallace to post 'em wid his own hand. He's workin' some game on the quiet. He's a spy, I bet ye; he's one of Pinkerton's men; he's a bloody monopl'ist sneakin' in the seals
on us; else he's a — rep'orter doin' us up with lies in the papers. Whatever he's here for, he'll have to quit it.
We'll give him the word to pack his blankets."

"I bet you've got the wrong pig by the ear," said one of the conservatives.

"Dan, ye'd better not be toyin' wid
hem. There's no knowin' which end he'd go off," said another.

"He won't take no invite off'n you, Dan."

"He will take it, then," said the voice
addressed as Dan. "He'll take it polite,
at a day's outstandin' notice, or he'll take it as he'll get it, at the end av a gun."

III.

THE UNION FROM A NON-UNION
POINT OF VIEW.

"Not the least among the hardships of the peaceable, frugal and laborious poor
it is to endure the tyranny of mobs, with lawless force dictate to them, under penalty of peril to life and limb, where,
when and upon what terms they may earn a livelihood for themselves and their families. Any government that is worthy of the name will strenuously endeavor to secure to all within its jurisdiction freedom to follow their lawful vocations in safety for their property and their persons while obeying the law. And the law is common sense."

"Mike," said Darcie, looking up from the table, where he had cleared a space
for his writing materials, "I am telling my people at home something about the labor troubles here, but upon my life I don't know how to put the thing fairly. I can't see the need of union intervention in the Coeur d'Alene. Do you know what the miners' grievances are?"

"I'll be damned if I do," Mike replied, without hesitation. "We was do-in' well. Every man was gettin' his three dollars, or his three and a half, or his four dollars a day, accordin' to what he could 'arn, and we knew no better than be frin's with the men that ped us our wages. That's how it was when I come. 'Twas the age av innocen-cence with us; the lion an' the lamb
was lyin' down together, and there wasn't a man av us suspicioned what a set of robbers and iron-heeled oppressors thim mine-owners was till the brotherhood in Butte cast their eye on us in the par'lous shtate we was in."

"Luk at thim sons av toil over there,"
says they, 'in darkest Idyho, sellin'
themselves for what wages the mo-

Save His Life by a Jest.

Archee Armstrong was the well-beloved jester of King James VI. of Scotland, afterward James I. of England, and this is the traditional story of their introduction: "One day a shepherd with the carcass of a sheep over his shoulders was tracked to his cottage on the moorlands by the officers of justice. In the cottage they found a vacant-faced lad, rocking a cradle with more attention than a boy is accustomed to give that duty; this, however, did not arouse their suspicions.
They searched the cottage thoroughly,
but failed to discover the sheep. They were about to depart, when one of their number accidentally looked into the cradle, and—the stolen sheep lay there! The lad, who was supposed to be the thief, was brought before King James VI. of Scotland. He was tried, convicted, and sentenced to die. He began to plead with the king. He was a poor, ignorant fellow, he said; he had heard of the Bible and would like to read it through before he died.
Would the king respite him until he did so? The king readily gave his consent, whereupon the culprit immediately said: "Then hang me if ever
I read a word o't, as lang as my een are open." The witty reply captured the king. He pardoned the prisoner, and took him into his service as jester.
In this capacity Archee was soon a prime favorite.—Amelia Wofford, in St.
Nicholas.

Evading the Law.

A collier who amused himself with flying pigeons had occasion to go to town recently, and took with him a bird in a bag. He was about to toss up the pigeon in the town hall square when a policeman came up and told him that he must not fly the bird there. "Why not?"
asked the collier. "Because it is for-bidden, and I shall have to lock you up if you do." The collier, with the usual sharpness of his kind, thereupon took the pigeon out of the bag, set it on the ground, stroked its wings and said to it:
"Aw corn'd toss thee up here, so thou mun walk whom; dost yer? Thou mun walk whom." The bird, of course, rose in the air, leaving the policeman petrified with astonishment.—London Telegraph.

A Tribute.

"She has a wonderfully forgiving nature," said one young woman. "I offended her, unintentionally, and when I spoke to her about it, she said she was perfectly willing to overlook the past."

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "That is a specialty of hers."

"What?"

"Overlooking the past. She says that she is only 23 years of age."—Washington Star.

Wouldn't Keep.

"Tommy," said a mother to her six year-old hopeful, "you must not interrupt me when I am talking to the ladies;
it isn't good manners. You must wait till we get through and then you can talk." "But, mamma," retorted the youthful observer, "you never get through, and my talk won't keep."— Chicago News.

Very Substantial.

"How do you like your boarding house by this time, Dicer?" asked Trivvet. "Does Mrs. Small serve substantial meals?"

"She does," replied Dicer. "Her breakfast beefsteak is as substantial as I ever exercised my teeth upon."—

LI HUNG CHANG'S BIBLE.

The Viceroy Had a New Testament in His Library and Was Much Interested in It.

Dr. Colman, in "The East Asiatic Lloyd's," relates an interesting conversation he had lately with Li Hung Chang on the subject of the Bible. He says that one day when he called on the aged statesman he found him reading a beautifully bound New Testament, which had recently been sent him by a missionary connected with the London mission. The old man was so deep in the book that for some minutes he did not see his visitor. After awhile he raised his eyes and gazed at Dr. Colman with a piercing look, and said: "Dr. Colman, do you believe this book?"

He answered: "Your excellency, if I did not believe it I should not have the honor of being your physician (medical missionary). I believe it with my whole heart."

"Are you sure that this is not all hearsay and human talk?" he asked again.

"Quite sure."

"How do you know it?" he went on. "By a sign that the book itself mentions. Is it not written that a bad tree can bring forth no good fruit, and a good tree no bad fruit? Your excellency has already admitted that the condition of the people in western lands is far better than in the orient, and I can assure you that the prosperity and happiness of the various nations that you recently visited correspond exactly to the degree in which they follow the precepts of this book. Would to God your excellency believed it, too!"

"Why, I believe you would like to make a Christian of me," said he, half joking, half seriously. "Not only you," answered Colman, "but also of your young emperor and all his people."

"We have Confucius," said he. "You have Jesus. Are they not in many respects alike?"

Here the viceroy was interrupted by important news, but when his servant took his Bible from his hands to carry it to his bookcase he said: "Don't put it in the bookcase; lay it on the table in my bedroom. I want to look at it again."—N.Y. Tribune.

Americans Crowded from Philippines.

As is well known, America was supreme in the Philippine trade from the opening of the export business of the islands on a large scale until within a few years. The reasons for the decline of American influence were largely the drawing out of capital by the older members of the great American trading firms and their leaving the business to younger members of their families, who found themselves with great responsibilities and a reduced capital. Gradually English firms with abundant capital succeeded to the bulk of the business. The last American firms in Manila were crowded out three years ago by Spanish intrigues, caused by the hatred of Americans growing out of the Cuban troubles. This overthrow was managed by the thousand and one petty annoyances of legal machinery that the Spaniards exerted against American firms.—Scribner's.

Oldest Town in Illinois.

The abandonment of the post office at Kaskaskia, Ill., for want of patronage, calls to mind the fact that this is the oldest town in the state, having been founded by La Salle in 1682—the same year in which Penn founded Philadelphia. It has remained distinctively French to this day, and the modern movement seems to have avoided it.

MEDICAL HEROES UNDER FIRE

When the medical history of the last war in India is written it will prove interesting reading. There were many difficulties overcome and hardships endured with the usual element of danger. A good instance of this was when Gen. Woodhouse was wounded early in the war. A bullet struck him in the thigh, passed down below the knee, broke into pieces and lodged. The Roentgen ray apparatus revealed the exact conditions and it was determined to extract the pieces. In the middle of the operation, artificial light being used, the Afridis crawled up and suddenly blazed into the tent, sending 13 shots through the canvas. Now that might have been a very disturbing circumstance and apt to interfere with the perfect application of the aseptic form of surgery. And what happened? The operation went on and was successfully completed as if there was no Afridi within 100 miles.

As usual we had many examples of great personal bravery and devotion to duty in the midst of danger. Surgeon Captain Beys arrested hemorrhage under a very hot fire, and Sir William Lockhart, speaking of the incident, said that no one ever better merited the reward of the Victoria cross than he. He got nothing; but that is another story. Another medical officer greatly distinguished himself, Surgeon Lieutenant Hugo.

Lieut. Ford was dangerously wounded in the shoulder. The bullet cut the artery, and he was bleeding to death when Surgeon Lieutenant V. Hugo came to his aid. The fire was too hot to permit of lights being used. There was no cover of any sort. It was at the bottom of the cup. Nevertheless, the surgeon struck a match at the peril of his life and examined the wound. The match went out amidst a splutter of bullets which kicked up the dust all around, but by its uncertain light he saw the nature of the injury. The officer had already fainted from loss of blood. The doctor seized the artery, and as no other ligature was forthcoming he remained under fire for three hours holding a man's life between his finger and thumb.

When at length it seemed that the enemy had broken into the camp, he picked up the still unconscious officer in his arms, and without relaxing his hold, bore him to a place of safety. His arm was for many hours paralyzed from cramp from the effects of the exertion of compressing the artery.—London Lancet.

Submerged.

It's a pretty tough tale they tell on the Kentucky man who went to a big banquet out of the state. He had been invited to respond to the toast "Kentucky," and was expected to glitter and glow. The feast proceeded in great shape, one wine following the other—punch galore—heaven knows what else—and the gentleman from the state imbued with cheerful persistency. His speech did not come till the close of the banquet, and finally the toastmaster rose and said: "Mr. Bluegrass will respond to the toast 'Kentucky.'" He made some graceful remarks and looked around. "Alas! Mr. Bluegrass was not visible."

"Where's Kentucky?" he demanded of his fellow guests. "Where is Kentucky?"

"Kentucky is under the table," was the reply, and, sure enough, he was reposing under the mahogany, where not a wave of trouble rolled across his peaceful breast.—Louisville Times.

Infants' Food.

There is no starch in mother's milk, therefore farinaceous food is not indispensable to a child under a year old. At six months old a baby may have three and a half ounces of milk, half an ounce of cream and two ounces of water at each feeding. Add a little sugar and a very little salt. It is wise to sterilize the mixture. Feed every three hours. Some babies may want more food at a feeding, in which case the quantity may be increased if the proportionately observed.—Ladies' Home Journal.

She Scored That Time.

"What's that?" said the old gentleman as he entered while the eldest daughter was saying things confidentially to her mother.

"Bess says just telling me that the young man that visited the Broketons last summer has written her, and that he sent love and kisses."

"He did, did he? The impudent puppy. Write him and squelch him at once, or you're no daughter of mine. Let him know so there is no possible chance of misunderstanding that you have the utmost contempt for such conduct, and if he ever comes here again I'll kick him out of the house."

"Well, did you attend to that matter, Bess?" asked the old gentleman at breakfast next morning.

"Good. What did you say?" "I told him distinctly that if he didn't know any better than to send such things in a letter, instead of bringing them in person, I would have to forego the pleasure of his acquaintance."

For the next five minutes the family were terror-stricken under a conviction that the head of the household had burst a blood vessel.—Stray Stories.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES.

The Tendency of the Age Is Toward Mural Decorations.

Probably at no time in the world's history has as much attention been paid to the interior decoration of homes as at present. No home, no matter how humble, is without its handiwork that helps to beautify the apartments and make the surroundings more cheerful. The taste of the American people has kept pace with the age, and almost every day brings forth something new in the way of a picture, a drapery, a piece of furniture or other form of mural decoration. One of the latest of these has been given to the world by the celebrated artist, Muville, in a series of four handsome porcelain game plaques. Not for years has anything as handsome in this line been seen. The subjects represented by these plaques are American Wild Ducks, American Pheasant, American Quail and English Snipe. They are handsome paintings and are especially designed for hanging over dining room walls, though their richness and beauty entitled them to a place in the parlor of any home. These original plaques have been purchased at a cost of $80,000 by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., manufacturers of the celebrated Elastic Starch, and in order to enable their numerous customers to become possessors of these handsome works of art they have had them reproduced by a special process, in all the rich colors and beauty of the original. They are finished on hard cardboard, pressed and embossed in the shape of a plaque and trimmed with a heavy band of gold. They measure forty inches in circumference and contain no reading matter or advertiser's name whatever.

Until September 1st Messrs. J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co. propose to distribute these plaques free to their customers. Every purchaser of three ten-cent packages of Elastic Starch, flat-iron brand, manufactured by J. C. Hubinger Bros. Co., is entitled to receive one of these handsome works of art from their grocer. Old and new customers alike are entitled to the benefits of this offer. These plaques will not be sent through the mail, the only way to obtain them being from your grocer. Every grocer store in the country has Elastic Starch for sale. It is the oldest and best laundry starch on the market and is the most perfect cold process starch ever invented. It is the only starch made by men who thoroughly understand the laundry business, and the only starch that will not injure the finest fabric. It has been the standard for a quarter of a century and as an evidence of how good it is twenty-two million packages were sold last year. Ask your dealer to show you the plaques and tell you about Elastic Starch. Accept no substitute. Bear in mind that this offer holds good a short time only and should be taken advantage of without delay.

TO MRS. PINKHAM

From Mrs. Walter E. Budd, of Patchoque, New York.

Mrs. Budd, in the following letter, tells a familiar story of weakness and suffering, and thanks Mrs. Pinkham for complete relief:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I think it is my duty to write to you and tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I feel like another woman. I had such dreadful headaches through my temples and on top of my head, that I nearly went crazy; was also troubled with chills, was very weak; my left side from my shoulders to my waist pained me terribly. I could not sleep for the pain. Plasters would help for a while, but as soon as taken off, the pain would be just as bad as ever. Doctors prescribed medicine, but it gave me no relief."

"Now I feel so well and strong, have no more headaches, and no pain in side, and it is all owing to your Compound. I cannot praise it enough. It is a wonderful medicine. I recommend it to every woman I know."

JOHNSON'S QUICK WIT.

How the Ex-President Displayed It on the Stump in Tennessee.

There is in the city of Memphis a precinct known as Finch, in which a majority of the voters were Irish. It so happened that Andrew Johnson and his opponent for the United States senate, Gus Henry, were to meet in joint debate in this precinct. The evening came, and hundreds of blue Irish eyes were on the two speakers as they ascended the rostrum. Henry opened, and as a bid for the Irish vote he told in withering terms how Johnson, when in congress before, had voted against a bill for an appropriation to assist Ireland during a time of famine. He himself had done yeoman work for the passage of the bill, while this other man, who was now asking their support, had done everything possible to defeat it. It was a fine point, and the speaker made the most of it, burning before it the lamp of his eloquence until the crowd were wild with excitement. Then Henry sat down, and Johnson got up amid catcalls and scoffs to answer him.

"What my opponent has told you is true," he said. "Ireland was suffering, and I voted against an appropriation for her relief, for the money which it was thus proposed to give away was not mine, but yours; yours because it was in the public coffers. I refused to give away money which did not belong to me, but I went down into my own pocket and out of my own private funds—which I had a right to bestow—I subscribed $260 to the relief fund which was being quietly raised. How much of his own money did Mr. Henry give? Not a cent. He was too busy trying to give away yours. Now, gentlemen, which of us two did the better part by suffering Ireland?" The effect of this was magical. The catcalls were now for Henry and the cheers for Johnson.

Thus the campaign went on, ending in a victory for the ex-tailor, who once more took his place among the statesmen of the land. But his term was a short one, for death soon claimed him. But he left behind him a reputation as a "stump" speaker which abides still upon the hustings down in Tennessee. —Chicago Times-Herald.

NEW YORK JUSTICE.

A City in Which a Rival Is Not Held In Great Esteem.

As is generally known, it is a punishable offense in the state of New York for any person to attempt to take his life, although it is not so if the attempt be successful—which makes self murder somewhat different legally from the other kind. As is also very generally known, New York, individually and collectively, is disposed to forever point the finger of scorn at her large and growing neighbor, Philadelphia.

Not long ago a prisoner was before a New York judge charged with attempted suicide, and the judge, being a man who lived on Easy street, where it was sunny in winter and shady in summer, frowned fiercely on the culprit because he couldn't understand how any man would want to quit this life until he was forced to do so.

"Your honor," pleaded the culprit, looking into the frowning face of justice, "there were mitigating circumstances."

The judge frowned more fiercely at the thought of offering an excuse for such a crime and said nothing.

"But there were, your honor," insisted the prisoner. "The firm I am working for informed me last Saturday night that I would have to go to Philadelphia to live, as they were compelled to make a change."

The judge's entire demeanor underwent a rapid transformation.

"Great goodness!" he exclaimed in a horrified tone. "The prisoner is acquitted and the clerk will please make out a warrant for the arrest of the firm for assault with intent to kill." —Washington Star.

A War Relic.

George M. Millington, a veteran of the Seventeenth regiment, while visiting his brother, the Rev. Richard Millington, at Conrod, found among the latter's war relics a poster printed on cloth calling for recruits for the Seventeenth Michigan infantry. The poster reads as follows: "Seventeenth regiment, Michigan infantry. One hundred dollars' bounty! First month's pay in advance! Rendezvous, Detroit barracks. Fifty recruits wanted to fill up a company in the new regiment, to serve for three years or during the war, unless sooner discharged. Recruits will receive $13 per month, with board, clothing and medical attendance, to commence from the day of enlistment, and a bounty of $100. Apply to Alfred Abel, first lieutenant Seventeenth Michigan infantry. Recruiting office opposite Rathbun House." The poster also bears the picture of an eagle, with spread wings, bearing in its mouth a streamer on which are the words, "Michigan true to the Union." The Rev. Mr. Millington gave the poster to his brother, and the latter prizes it very highly. —Rome Sentinel.

His Autograph.

"You are the celebrated Mr. Chumley Jones, I believe?"

"That is my name, sir. What can I do for you?"

"Well, Mr. Jones, I came to ask you for your autograph."

"My autograph? Delighted, I'm sure! Have you any preference as to its form?"

"If it is all the same to you, Mr. Jones, I should prefer it at the bottom of a check for $50, made to the order of Snip & Cuttum, tailors. You have the bill, I believe." —Harper's Bazar.

West Turkistan is thinly populated and has few schools. The Russian government has fitted up as schools a few railroad carriages, which remain at each station for a few weeks. The teacher lives in the carriage. The children are required to learn a lesson or two until the itinerant school again reaches their neighborhood.

FEATHERY.

You've heard of the girl in the Gainsborough hat.

With its plumes of snowy white?

Now, I know a blond maiden more artless than that.

With feathers as black as night,

A plume laden hat with an upturned rim

And a red rose, like her cheek.

The tall pompons nod, and the velvety rim

Shades a face Madonna meek.

Is it true that "a kiss is far better than that?"

I'm dumb as I win her smile.

The feathers are beckoning, while pitapat

My heart keeps throbbing the while.

Ten tips gently nodding, and each one a curl—

I vow I am dizzy with bliss!

'Tis an audacious hat; she's a hute, modest girl—

Shall I woo with words or a kiss?

Now, the lass in the Gainsborough hat who

Was kissed

By the poet in the song

Simply looked so coquettish he could not resist.

But this lassie might think it wrong.

Still, I'll follow his method of courting and try

To steal a draft from her lips.

She is timid and chaste and alarmingly shy—

The girl with bold ostrich tips.

The chapeau, top heavy, almost hides her eyes

Of fond, forgetful blue.

Oh, will she be angry or show sad surprise

When I dare begin to woo?

Heigho! something soft swept my cheek, I declare—

And my yet innocent lips!

But if it were kisses I'm—quite unaware;

I'll swear 'twas only the tips!

—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE SERVANT QUESTION.

How Much Worry and Vexation May Be Saved the Mistress.

"Much of the cry against the tyranny and impudence of servants comes from those who exercise their authority in a disagreeable way and who do not know the first principles of successful management," argues Jane Lowry Cummings in a thoughtful paper on "Managing the Servants," in The Woman's Home Companion.

"Every woman has her own theory of how the housework should be done, but it is not always necessary to insist upon having it done in her way provided it is done satisfactorily in another way. Bridget may come well recommended and be discharged at the end of a week or a month because her method is not what her mistress considers the proper one. Wherever she goes she is likely to be confronted with new methods and blamed for doing her work after a system which she has laboriously acquired at her last situation. She is a machine upon which each succeeding mistress imposes her own pet theories, to the exclusion of all others. Without reference to results she is compelled to change her method of handling the broom, building fires, attending to the bedchambers, etc., and because she is awkward at doing things in a new way she is probably upbraided and told that she does not know her business. If Bridget is quick tempered, she may resent this injustice, and then she is discharged without a 'character,' and her late mistress has another opportunity of confiding to her friends her troubles over the everlasting 'servant girl problem.'"

"But Bridget is the one to be pitied. She is confronted by the more difficult problem of how to conform to the rules and whims of every new mistress under whose orders she may find herself. She knows how to do her work if let alone, and she proves this if she is fortunate enough to be employed by a housekeeper who is broad minded and tactful enough to give her a fair chance. The woman who does not interfere unnecessarily with the work of her servants—who judges their work by results, who speaks to them gently and treats them with consideration—seldom has trouble in getting faithful servants and keeping them. The display of a little tact, a little judgment, a little kindness, will often save the housekeeper much useless worry and vexation of spirit."

A Cord of Wood.

Few persons comprehend the productive capacity of a cord of wood. Chemical experiments are occasionally developing new uses for wood in matters remote from its ordinary adaptability, and the feature that is exciting a great deal of interest just now is the transformation of wood products into liquids. Although under the strongest kind of pressure wood yields scarcely any moisture, by means of heat wood will evolve gases and liquids of marked potency and utility. In converting wood into charcoal gases and smoke arise which can be condensed into pyroigneous acid. It is estimated that there is fully 65 per cent of this acid in a given quantity of wood, and from it are extracted wood alcohol, acetate of lime and wood tars. The alcohol thus obtained is said to be a very satisfactory substitute for grain alcohol for mechanical and manufacturing purposes, and it can be produced at less than one-third of the cost of the grain alcohol.

Investigations conducted with practical objects in view have disclosed these interesting facts: A cord of wood which weighs 4,000 pounds will yield about 2,050 pounds of pyroigneous acid and 700 pounds of charcoal; the acid will produce about 9 gallons of 82 per cent crude wood alcohol, about 25 gallons of tar and fully 200 pounds of acetate of lime. These facts indicate a future for wood outside of the realm of fuel and pulp. —New York Times.

Hubby's Good Qualities.

The curate was making a call on a humble member of his flock, when the good woman, in course of conversation, very much extolled the virtues of her absent husband and finished up by saying, "And he is such a good man too."

"In what way?" asked the curate.

"Why, sir," she said, "he always says his prayers every night of his life—drunk or sober—he never misses that." —London Telegraph.

The hospitals of the metropolitan asylums board in London have 3,800 beds set apart for scarlet fever and only 700 for diphtheria.

Cakes of tea in India, pieces of silk in China, salt in Abyssinia and codfish in Iceland have all been used as money.
